

Cuckoo Through the Walls

Cate Le Bon

I will not sing your name and tie my heart to jupiter and watermelon dreams
I felt the fear of change I washed the metal down I toiled for hours never leave the house
lay still on the ground exhale the sounds of symphonies she did not use the door she did not leave the table she spread out like a fan and then burst into tears and I watched the dinner drown I drank for hours never leave the house
(at the drop of a hat
I am scaling her wall?
still her thoughts in a world her heart? stands there)
