

Positive Outlook

Corrosion of Conformity

I've got a positive outlook
Won't get stuck
Drowning in my surroundings Never give in, never give up
Don't let them scare you
No matter whatever, never Where are you putting your energy?
So much hate and jealousy
Patience is growing thin
All hope is caving in Got to put it in perspective
Got to see your objective
Isn't it what you expected
From something so long neglected? Be calm, be brave, got to keep yourself alive
As pressure turns to rage
You solder your own cage
That's not for me, not how I want to be
