

When You Go

The Crash Motive

Since you've been gone, I've been walking all around town
When you were here i was flying you couldn't get me down
But you hit me by surpriseStepped into the morning, I can only see the moon
I can only tell your memory by its sting
I was sure that I'd see sun
And I was sure I'd see you
And all I need's a chance for me to see (sing?)
Yeah
Maybe you need time on your own
But you take parts of me when you go
You're the place my heart has called home
When you go
Yeah yeah yeah oh
I should be just a bit pissed off
You left me with no sign
But I'm fine
I need a second to remind you
You have something thats my mine
And i'm coming to speak my mindStepped into the morning, I can only see the moon
I can only tell your memory by its sting
I was sure that I'd see sun
And I was sure I'd see you
And all I need's a chance for me to see
Yeah
Maybe you need time on your own
But you take parts of me when you go
You're the place my heart has called home
When you go
You need a moment
So take your moment
But i hope you know
Thats its up to you and it's up to me
Cuz it's only fate (faith?)
YeahWell I was sure that I'd see sun
And I was sure I'd see you
And all I need's a chance for me to see
Maybe you need time on your own
But you take parts of me when you go
You're the place my heart has called home

When you go
Na-ahMaybe you need time on your own
But you take parts of me when you go
You're the place my heart has called home

When you go
Has called home

When you go
