I Would Give Anything

Judith Owen

Time seems like a good friend
And you don't know what you have
'Til one day you go and lose it
Taking life for granted
Never thinking it might end
It's just the way we all get through it
And God forgive me all the time I held back
From telling you how much you meant
And now it's too late, too lateAnd I would give anything
If you walked through that door
I would give anything
If you walked through that door again...I could take a plane. I could just fly into the blue
I could fill life with distractions
But when I want to sleep at night
I still see you...So I listen to your voicemail
To the messages you left
Because it makes me think you're still here
I look at all your photographs into the face I love
Because it's almost like having you near me
But God knows this house feels so empty today
And every lonely room reminds me
That you've gone away
