

The Sea, The Sea

Teen Men

It seems we find ourselves in love with our own youth
Can hardly recognize the stories now but we know they're true
It seems we want to find ourselves so close to our own youth It's just a 5 day march
We'll be forever repeating
We'll be forever repeating It seems we find ourselves with the love of our own youth
Can hardly recognize them now but I know it's you
It seems I want to find myself as close as I was to you
I hear it's just a 5 day march
I'll be forever repeating
I'll be forever repeating So I look out to the sea
And notice how how it repeats
So let me go, let me go, let me go, let me go
If it works for the sea
It should work for me It seems we find ourselves confused by our own youth Can't kidnap it, can't re-enact it, can't make it feel new
And I swear this time I find myself as close as I was to you
It's just a 5 day march
I'll be forever repeating
I'll be forever repeating It's just a 5 day march
We'll be forever repeating
