Love Is Blind

Human Nature

We never asked each other why
We only made each other cry
When the day becomes the night
And all that I have left inside is scattered on the wind
Didn't I give you all that love could bring
Didn't I give you more than everything
You know it hurts to end like this
When we've come so far
Don't tell me love is blind
'Cause I know what I see
Tell me how you walk away
When all you've known is me
And all that might have been
And what we left behind
Don't ever let a living person
Tell you love is blind
Memories of summer days
Laughing like a little child and lying in your arms
And we would own the stars like days of old
We'd make a vow to have and hold
Now we see the empty stage
The actors gone the empty page
The tears between the lines
Save me from these wild imaginings
Try to stop my heart remembering
Acting like there's someone else
When there's only me
So tell me what to say
Tell me what to do
Tell me how to walk away
When all I see is you
Shadows on the wall
Pictures in your mind
Never let a living person
Tell you love is blind
