

I Believe In You

Vertical Horizon

You're only broken on the outside

You're shivering

But the warmth will come back

It's hard to see beyond hindsight

When all regrets fade in from black

It's in the regrets fade in from black

It's in the promise of day

turned cold in the night

You are the light!

All you have is your name and the air is alive

You are the light

I believe in you

I believe in you

It's always hardest when you doubt it

It's out of sight and hides from your voice

But you can never live without it

It's your birthright this beautiful noise

Are you burning the days just to get through the night?

You are the light

All you have is your name, but the air is alive

You are the light

I believe in you! I believe in you!

If the years blow away

Just send the rain

We will still find a place

Because LOVE breaks through

I believe in you!

I believe in you!

I believe in you!
