Fight the Fire

Primal Fear

See the reckless tyrant
That reigns with the iron fist
No chance for him to break you
'Cause you're a liberalistWith thousand miles an hour
You smash down every wall
No force will ever stop you
No one will make you fallBe the one
To make your dreams come true
See there's only one thing
You must doYou have to fight the fire
You are the hero
You're born to win
Take all that you require
Today you are stronger
Than you've ever beenUncompromising fighter
A warrior of liberty
Smashing boundless courage
You fear no enemyTotal subordination
A thing you don't know at all
You'd rather be dead man
Before you start to crawlBe the one
To make your dreams come true
See there's only one thing
You must doYou have to fight the fire
You are the hero
You're born to win
Take all that you require
Today you are stronger
Than you've ever beenBe the one
To make your dreams come true
See there's only one thing
You must doYou have to fight the fire
You are the hero
You're born to win
Take all that you require
Today you are stronger
Than you've ever beenYou have to fight the fire
You are the hero
You're born to win

Take all that you require
Today you are stronger
Than you've ever been
