I'm on a mission to feel But someone else's steering the wheel This wagon jumps off the main track I'll be back
But not soon enough I'll be all but forgotten Sharing our separate beds Mind set where the sun never sets We're not there, we're not halfway there I'm a drop in the ocean Love is what you want Just keep your eyes shut It might pass you by Love is what you want What makes a dream come true?

What makes a lie?

Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want Planning the perfect escape Trying to not make mistakes My ego get stuck in the way When I thought everything was okay You start foaming with hatred Waiting for three magic words Some easily overheard Have you heard I was almost there At the registry office Love is what you want Just keep your eyes shut It might pass you by Love is what you want What makes a dream come true?

Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want What is the one and only For how long can you leave a door open Its a cold comfort That we're equally lonely If you let me in Might work it out Love is what you want Just keep your eyes shut It might pass you by Love is what you want What makes a dream come true?

Love is what you want Just keep your eyes shut It might pass you by Love is what you want What makes a dream come true?

Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want Love is what you want, is what you want
