Cat Piano

Seabear

Half remembered
Drunken nights
The sun stayed up like
A diamond in the skyI woke up
Where have you been?
I know I'm bored
And my blood is pretty thinBut some nights I swear
There was magic in the air
A fox invites me to part from loneliness
Wolves seem to pick a scent of an owl in my headYour head's in headlock
You in trouble again?
Now you've lost
Another friendYou felt something
But you're never feeling loved
When thatll bring men
You're the one thats freaking lost
