When the Wind Blows

Metus

METUS

"WHEN THE WIND BLOWS

Oh! this cold air
weaves the wind
into my hair

Oh! all your words
they're like ice
freeze my heart

Oh! wish this evil were undone that we breathed
by words of mouth

Years so long
ther's still ice
in your heart

Let's forgive each other all that wrath
which torn us under in the past
froze our years
and turned them into ice like cold wind does

Winds of harsh words
drove streams of tears
to seas uncertain
Where coldness hides
two hearts of ice
can they be melted?

what a cold...

Oh what a cold
brought by the wind
for all these years

Years so long
always ice
in your heart

And... it's still likely to undo
all this evil too

Sounds of warm words
caught with the wind
the wind of pardon
Two hearts of ice
will melt within are they too hardened?"

Lyrics Submitted by Daniel Walton

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/