Will the Sun Rise

Stratovarius

Throwing my dreams out of my mind
Casting them into the sky
Canceling tasks I've delayed for so long
Now it's do or dieI can't be seen, I can't be heard
But I am here and I am wonderingWill the sun rise tomorrow, will it light up my sky?
Can I wake up, no sorrow awaiting
Will the sun rise tomorrow? Will I still see the dawn?
And not worry, 'bout the future at allAt the end of each day
I promise myself, I'd better start to live
'Coz sooner or later, I'll find out
There's so much I can giveI can't be seen, I can't be heard
But I am here and I am wonderingWill the sun rise tomorrow, will it light up my sky?
Can I wake up, no sorrow awaiting
Will the sun rise tomorrow? Will I still see the dawn?
And not worry, 'bout the future at all
How're you feelin'?Will the sun rise tomorrow, will it light up my sky?
Can I wake up, no sorrow awaiting
Will the sun rise tomorrow? Will I still see the dawn?
And not worry, 'bout the future at allWill the sun rise tomorrow, will It light up my sky?
Can I wake up, no sorrow awaiting
Will the sun rise tomorrow? Will I still see the dawn?
And not worry, 'bout the future at allWill the sun rise?
Will the sun rise?
Will the sun rise?
