Every Heart

Boa

Tell me babe, how many do I shed my tears?
Every heart, every heart is not a gentle yetShall I do? I can never say my loneliness
Every heart doesn't know so what to say oh what to doI was afraid of darkness 'cause I felt that I was left alone
So I prayed for help to the distant million starsRound and round the planets revolve around the sun
And we always seek after love and peace forever more
Growing, growing woe, baby, we can work it out
Look up at the sky every heart is shining all todayShow me now, what kind of smile do I come across?
Every heart, every heart can take a step towards the dreamsAll of us want to take a lasting happiness
Whenever you feel sad, I wanna hold you and give you a sound sleepSome day, every heart's gonna free and easy
We have peace of mind, someday all the people find the way to loveGoes and goes the time goes on, we are not alone
We'll live on together and we will find some precious peace
Sometime we will smile, sometime we will cry somehow
Don't forget believing yourself, tomorrows never dieThere is the warm heart, places on my mind
In my earliest days there and it's so sweet
There are many stars they have talk with me so kind
They say yes always, time's friend of mine so shineRound and round the planets revolve round the sun
And we always week after love and peace forever more
Growing, growing woe, baby, we can work it out
Look at the sky, every heart is shining all todayGoes and goes the time goes, on we are not alone
We live on together and we will find some precious things
Sometime we will smile, sometime we will cry somehow
Don't forget believing yourself, tomorrows never die

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/