

The Dream

Joshua Stipp

Love is beauty, Love is passion Stay up all all night and then crashing Girls looking while im passsing but youre my one distraction want to be cuddling on the couch watching sleepless in seatle youre always on my brain girl youre the one that matters you are one of a kind and i could never find another i like you love you i want some more of you I might be awkward talking to you like hello whats up doing what i can to make you laugh and all that good stuff want to spend my life with you forever is not enough early in the morning youre the reason that i get up every time i see you my heart skips a beat i should be a janator cuz im going to sweep you off youre feet running off into the sunset and i am holding your hand i know thats kind of cheesy but i think thats how my movie ends in class just sitting next to me wondereing if you notice me then you ask for notes from me so i start stuttering um hi hello my name is joshua my favorite instrument is the uh harmonica i like stars and stuff like outer space and oh have i mentioned that i love your face sorry things just got weird please dont go far from here heart pounding like im in fear, saw us together in a magic mirror floating on a river, dreams bigger than the nile tell you stupid jokes because i love to see you smile she said hello and then i said i love you face in my hands like what did i just do she started looking at me like a beat up catalak heart leapt out my chest when she said she loved me back im so out of her league im ron weasly shes artistic and beatiful shes pam beasley i found my fish in the sea..... i found my future wife i can finally stop looking theres a word out there and its called love were lovebirds in my heart and shes my dove
