

This Pain

Kamelot

Pushing for the limit of sanity
Pushing for the surface
So I can breathe
Dark is the night for us all
But some days
I can feel the light crawling down these jagged walls
Blessed sunlightSome of this pain is sole subjected
But what was I to do
Some of this pain will always stay
Deep and trueI left her with a warning
Without protection
'Cause the human nature has it's ways with lust
With her back against the wall
She crumbled
Just a minute more would save her life
And even so... part of me
Blessed sunlightSome of this pain is sole subjected
But what was I to do
Some of this pain will always stay
Deep and true
