

Not Too Late For Love (Radio Edit)

Beverly Knight

Do you wonder if your future rests on a mountain made of clay?
Climbing higher ain't an easy quest 'cause your ground's falling away Once upon a time you knew just what you wanted, who you were Now you find there ain't a soul you trust and your vision's all a blur Sweet baby, don't you cry, everybody feels the same
Hope gives the reasons why this is not a losing game
The world is going crazy, everybody's spinning
Out of sync and out of time
Living in a movie, waiting for the credits, don't you know it's real life?
You can't let it phase ya, trying to find the reasons
When it seems the bad outweighs the good
Until we lose our faith, fall from grace, it's not too late for love
There are times when we reach for the sky and we tumble down to earth
Still no closer to the finish line, though we've run for all we're worth
We are living through the strangest years, there's so much uncertainty
Seems as though some of our darkest fears have become reality Sweet baby, don't you cry, see this storm is gonna pass
No matter how it tries, troubled weather never lasts
World is going crazy, everybody's spinning
Out of sync and out of time
Living in a movie, waiting for the credits, don't you know it's real life?
You can't let it phase ya, trying to find the reasons
When it seems the bad outweighs the good
Until we lose our faith, fall from grace, it's not too late for love
World is going crazy, everybody's spinning
Out of sync and out of time
Living in a movie, waiting for the credits, don't you know it's real life?
You can't let it phase ya, trying to find the reasons
When it seems the bad outweighs the good
Until we lose our faith, fall from grace, it's not too late for love
World is going crazy, everybody's spinning
Out of sync and out of time
Living in a movie, waiting for the credits, don't you know it's real life?
You can't let it phase ya, find the reasons
When it seems the bad outweighs the good
Until we lose our faith, fall from grace, it's not too late for love
I said it's not too late for love
It's not too late, so put your faith in love
It's not too late, so put your faith in love
