Love Joy Understanding

Incognito

If in your heart the choice is clear
It's better to speak, and let each other know now
Let's face the truth, the damage done
It's been a little too late, but just a little too longIf we're to find our way back home (ay ya ya ya)
For tonight and the rest of our livesLet's build a bridge to what is real Let's build a bridge to express what we feel we both know we can't go on, with this empty space between Let's build a bridge to what is real
Let's build a bridge to express what we feel
We both know this thing can't last, with this great divide in our livesWe need joy, understanding, love
