

Night Vision

Tennis

The taste of sweet wine
The way you keep time
Makes me feel light
Don't trust your magic
Can't change your habits
So let's be light
The way you hold me
Careful unfolding
Makes me feel light
It's not surprising
We go on rising
All through the night
Looking across the street lights
See the colors they obscure
Straining your night vision
For a chance to pierce the heavens
In the darkened light
Watching through the moonlight
Feel the softness of the air
Sleeping in the shadows
Of the heavens, so expansive in the waning light
The taste of sweet wine
The way you keep time
All through the night
Don't trust your magic
Can't change your habits
So let's be light
Looking across the street lights
See the colors they obscure
Straining your night vision
For a chance to pierce the heavens
In the darkened light
Watching through the moonlight
Feel the softness of the air
Sleeping in the shadows
Of the heavens, so expansive in the waning light
I knew all the love songs
I knew all the love songs
I knew all the love songs
I knew all the love songs
I knew all the love songs
I knew all the love songs
Looking across the street lights
See the colors they obscure
Straining your night vision
For a glimpse of something pure
Wandering through the moonlight

Feel the softness of the air
Sleeping in the shadow
Of the heavens, so expansive in the waning light
