

Bully

The Plot in You

I was never one for violence,
I could hold it in and just let go,
A word could never destroy me,
But you just pushed my limits Everyone hates you,
You're such a fucking failure,
Parents look, parents stare at you,
You're family's a disaster I feel my stomach turning,
Everywhere I look they're staring at me,
Eyes on my back, it's eating me alive,
There has never been someone that gets me like you,
The chills are racing up my neck When you fall asleep tonight
The devils watching every move you make,
Take your fucking words and just leave me alone,
This is over, take a step back now
