

Windsurfer

Rod Edwards, Roger Hand & John G. Perry

Windsurfer
Windsurfer
All he wanted was
To ride out on the wind
Windsurfer
To be one of the guys
And to look good in her eyes
He practiced in his dreams
Trying to catch the waves
Most of the time he sailed alone
Endless summer days
Flying in the sun
He'd ride and wait for the wind
To take him home
Windsurfer
Windsurfer
Windsurfer
Windsurfer
He said, "Let's sail away together"
She told him, "No, no, never, no"
Wind, windsurfer
It was early one morning
On a lovely beach
He left a message
And he wrote it in the sand
Why do we always go for Something out of reach?
Nobody ever really understands
Windsurfer
All he wanted to do
Was outrun the sun
Windsurfer
To take her in his arm
When the lonely day was done
Windsurfer
Windsurfer
