

Enlighten Me

Grouplove

Let's call it quits and see what the future holds
Been here before yeah but just went down this road
Long time to feel young, short time to get old
I was holding onto something knowing you would just let me go
Yeah I was holding onto something knowing you would just let me go
I love it when I get high, hate it when it gets cold And this crashing is a blessing if you know how the truth is told
But i don't feel my life is real
I'm on the fence with common sense
The tendency of time is to never understanding
The lesson of my life is to never comprehending
No matter how much you spent trying to plan it Or maybe on my deathbed I'll finally get an answer
Yeah maybe on my deathbed I'll finally get an answer
Tell me why it's always been this way
And this crashing is a blessing if you know how the truth is told but i don't feel my life is real I'm on the fence with common sense won't you enlighten me?
won't you just set me free?
Let's call it quits and see what the future holds
Been here before yeah but just went down this road
Long time to feel young, short time to get old

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>