

The Lie

One Less Reason

And you, your loves defining a generation to settle a score
I once knew trust but now I'm surrounded by time I've wasted
And hearts that I stole, I owe to you a second chance
An explanation, a promise I'll keep for every lie that I told to you
You said you would come back for me, said you'd find a safe place
You said that heaven and stars would never tear us apart
You'll find the right words even from the wrong ways
You lie
My lungs were failing, hands to the sky, face to the ground
I found that you have no intensions, you honor nothing
And how could this be true? They think so highly of you
Why won't you just shut up I'll make you fade away
There's a consequence to every word you say
Don't you know who I am? I said I would come back for you, said I'd find a safe place
Who knew that heaven and stars had their own prison bars
I'll find the right words even from the wrong ways, I lied
I never wanted so long to turn into go away
There was a time when your face I held much higher than grace
You are the catalyst to words I would never say, goodbye
And now I only talk to the dead, goodbye
You said you would come back for me, said you'd find a safe place
You said that heaven and stars would never tear us apart
You'll find the right words even from the wrong ways
You lie
I never wanted so long to turn into go away
There was a time when your face I held much higher than grace
You are the catalyst to words I would never say, goodbye
I'm gonna see it all your way
What do I do now?
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>