Sorry Not Sorry

Gemini Syndrome

You got your model, you got your PhD
You got in your house in the hills and now you're looking down on me
You forgot compassion, you forgot integrity
You forgot all the things that are human and make you resemble meYou know, you know, you knowYou can't take it with you; you're only gonna leave it behind
The only thing that's helping you push through are the memories that live in your mind
While everyone is chasing the dragon, losing sight of what should have been clear
I'll be here to deliver a message I doubt it's what you wanted to hear
I'm not sorry (not, not, not sorry)You're so persistent, like a cancer eating love
You cut at the beauty below but then you curse the world above
You're an infestation, you're a condescending lie
You're ignoring the soul and forgetting that your body won't surviveYou know, you know, you knowYou can't take it with you you're only gonna leave it behind
The only thing that's helping you push through are the memories that live in your mind
While everyone is chasing the dragon, losing sight of what should have been clear
I'll be here to deliver a message I doubt it's what you wanted to hear
I'm not sorry (not, not, not sorry)Why should I apologize for everything I feel inside
For everything I've been denied
Sorry not sorryYou can't take it with you
You're only gonna leave it behind
The only thing that's helping you push through are the memories that live in your mind
While everyone is chasing the dragon, losing sight of what should have been clear
I'll be here to deliver a message I doubt it's what you wanted to hear
I'm not sorry (not, not, not sorry)
