Godawful Things

Lake Street Dive

Only a devil could be so bold to break a heart like yours
No no, so cold but you've been there before
You're in a state of disrepair, you're an answer to my prayers
Well well, I'll be thereThank the good lord
For those godawful things
That brought you right back to meOnly an angel can know there's love to find behind closed doors
In time you'll know when you're ready for moreThough you have not a lot to say, let me roll the stone away
Through you I am saved
