

Janice, It Ain't Funny

For All Those Sleeping

This won't be the first time

I never asked for this

But it will be the last

I never asked for this

If you leave me here

And your head turns away

Then this willow tree

Will be my resting place

You're making this easy she said

Would you erase me

How did we fall

How did we fall so far

So far apart

Who can save us now

This won't be the first time

I never asked for this

But it will be the last

I never asked for this heart to break

Your hands they shake

Baby your heart will break

I hate to say this is the end

If you stay here

And never turn away

Then this willow tree

Would make such lovely graves

Your making this easy she said

Would you erase me

How did we fall

How did we fall so far

So far apart

Who can save us now

This won't be the first time

I never asked for this

But it will be the last

I never asked for this heart to break
Your hands they shake
Baby your heart will break
I hate to say this is the end

I won't let you go

This won't be the first time
I never asked for this
But it will be the last
I never asked for this heart to break
Your hands they shake
Baby your heart will break
I hate to say
Baby my heart will break
My hands they shake
I hate to say this is the end.
