Letting Go

Brooke Hogan

I think I'm gonna take it slow
And tell you the things that are on my mind
Then you can drop me off at home
For the last timeI only wanted you to know
That I always had the best of intentions
Look at what you put me through Anything I would have done for youBut it's not how it used to be
When you and I were hooked on each others dreams
Got stuck in reality and you couldn't
Make everything feel alright, alrightWhen I gave you the best of me I never thought
You'd give me a reason to tell you I'm leaving
I ran out of patience when you started changing
And there's no tears left to cryTry, try, kept on hoping we could find a way to make it real
Why, why and tell myself that it's getting better when it never will
You know, that I would never want for you to be alone
It's so hard to tell you so but I'm letting goNow I'm not trying to regret anything
That I've done or the things I have said
Life has a way of making change like the seasons
Summer, spring, winter and fallSometimes I feel so all alone
I wish you were there on special occasions
Feelings for you I can't hide
But I know better than to drop my prideBut it's not how it used to be
When you and I were hooked on each others dreams
Got stuck in reality and you couldn't
Make everything feel alright, alrightWhen I gave you the best of me I never thought
You'd give me a reason to tell you I'm leaving
I ran out of patience when you started changing
And there's no tears left to cryTry, try, kept on hoping we could find a way to make it real
Why, why and tell myself that it's getting better when it never will
You know, that I would never want for you to be alone
It's so hard to tell you so but I'm letting goI've made up my mind
(I've made up my mind)
No more tears to cry
(Now there's no tears left to cry)[Incomprehensible]
I didn't believe you each and every time
You said you changed, I knew that things would stay the same
It would only be right if I went on with my own lifeTry, try, kept on hoping we could find a way to make it real
Why, why and tell myself that it's getting better when it never will
You know, that I would never want for you to be alone

It's so hard to tell you so but I'm letting goIt's alright, I don't want another try
'Cause I'm letting go
You can leave, you don't even say goodbye
'Cause I'm letting goNow I know that I just gotta live my life
I'll be fine
It's so hard to tell you so

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/