Nobody Understands Me

Chixdiggit!

I saw your sister in the hallway
I didn't recognize
She said we've met about a million timesRemember faces but forget names
Cause you don't look alike
I guess i'm not the most observant guyYou say "sometimes we gotta walk through first class to get to our seats"
Forget about how we used to have it cause we must accept things will never be that good againNobody understands me Nobody understands meThey say: "you can't go back"
I'm sick and now i'm going home sixteen chickens and a tamarind
[...]Nobody understands me
Nobody understands me
Nobody understands me
Nobody understands me
