

Way Above

Breekda & Dub Fist

Feels like it was yesterday
Nothing's changed, except everything
I'll always remember the last words that you said to me
This emptiness fills everyday
And you're way above, you're touching the sun
I still love you more than anyone
'Cause you're higher, higher than I'll ever be
You meant everything to me
Turn my head as a car goes by
Wonder, could it be you this time?
I keep starin' at the driveway
Hoping you'll walk up any day
This empty house is killing me
And you're way above, you're touching the sun
I still love you more than anyone
'Cause you're higher, higher than I'll ever be
You meant everything to me
I realize you're not coming home to me
No one's here, I'm not alone
'Cause I'll always love you, thinking of you
And somehow life goes on
I couldn't find the words, I don't have the nerve
To tell you everything I missed
It was so beautiful, so unbelievable
I hope I see you again
And you're way above, you're touching the sun
I still love you more than anyone
'Cause you're higher, higher than I'll ever be
You meant everything to me
