

Got A Feeling

Flickerstick

I got a feeling
Its a feeling that youll never understand
Its like a rush to my heart that I hope never ends
Just why, it all depends 'cause its a power such a powerA sensation that is changing how I feel about you
Its all brand new the fight is far from over theres nothing left to
'Cause Im in charge, and say, you just sail away tonight
I wanna see you'Cause when you get what you want
Then you make it so take it away
If you break it dont save it
Just run away, just run away, don't you run awaySo cant you see that were the same
Because theres no one else to blame
The only ones who can handle their share of the pain, why
'Cause its just a gameSo Id never get away another trip another day
Ive seen you before
Its all the same the friends they come and go
The years just fade away
So you'll step in line 'cause were breaking outWell, you get what you want then you make it, dont take it away
If you break it dont save it, dont fake it
Get what you want then you make it, dont take it away
You break it, dont save it, run away
Oh you, run away, don't you run away
Oh you, run away, don't you run awayGot a feeling, its a feeling that youll never understand
I couldnt live without the rush, its a must
Dont you break out, dont fake out
Dont sell out, oh, you fucking seller
You compromise every word you sayWhat you want then you make it, dont take it away
If you break it dont save it, dont fake it
Say what you want then you make it dont take it away
If you break it dont save itRun away, oh you run away, don't you run away
Oh run away, you run away, don't you run away
Run away, don't you run away, c'mon let's run away
