

This May Not Be the End of the World

John Mellencamp

Please be quiet, everyone's asleep
Yeah, Stella's locked her door
And she's requested some peace
She teaches the English at the American school
She teaches imaginary numbers and the golden rule
She says it's hard to worry about the future
When your past is knocking at your door
Sweet mistakes and information
Have been her lovers before
Hello, all you losers
You've got nothing to fear
This may not be the end of the world
But you can see it from here
She runs the motors and the music
On the carousel ride
She catches the children on the horses
As they fall through the rye
It's hard to see the future
When your back is bending over your shoes
It's hard holding on to nothing
When you've got nothing to lose
Hello, all your losers
Hey, you've got nothing to fear
This may not be the end of the world
But you can see it from here
I guess you heard about ol' Peewee
We had to tear his playhouse down, down, down
Then they put him in the electric chair
We'll have some fun now
When you see her
Give her some compliments on her looks
She'll be wearing a Mardi Gras dress
Comin' after you with words and books
Yeah, we've given you
The best seats in the house
So don't be late
St. Peter is at the door
And he ain't no man to wait
Hello, all you losers
You've got nothing to fear
This may not be the end of the world
But you can see it from here
Hello, all you losers
Yeah, you've got nothing to fear
This may not be the end of the world
But you can see it from here
You can see it from here
Yes, Daddy you know
You can see it from here
You can see it from here
You can see it from here
You can see it from here

You can see it from here
Yeah, you can see it from here
Yeah, you can see it from here Yeah, you can see it from here
Yes, Daddy
You can see it from here

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>