Want You More

Robert Palmer

Tried to phone, oh what's the use?
I know I won't get through to you
First a note, then a call
Only yesterday I was yours
Now every day I want you moreClose my eyes, oh there you are Stop before we go too far
Every move I recall
Shouldn't dream that you're here
Because it only makes me want you moreHow could I forget you?
All the reasons we've seen through
Didn't see, never thought
No sense looking back
Because it only makes me want you moreOur emotions in store
All the time we're apart, ignore
It only makes me want you morePlease don't think I never heard
I remember every word
Every move I recall
Shouldn't dream that you're here at all
It only makes me want you moreEvery day, hey, every room
Sadness makes the vainest fools
Whose to say, "What's in store?"
Just remember I just adore you
Every day I want you more, oh
