Optimist

Wanderwild

How can I know
If youâ€™re the one for me
How do I know which way your eyes will turn to see
How can I tell, if your heart even cares
That I am singing questions seeking pain repair

But thereâ€™s a light in the corner thatâ€™s filling up the frame
It draws me closer but I still donâ€™t know its name

How can I know
If this place feeds my bones
If home is where my heart is
I feel safe with you
Just tell me the truth
Thatâ€™s how Iâ€™ll know that you care
If this all leads to pretense
I wonâ€™t be prepared

Cause thereâ€™s a light in the corner thatâ€™s filling up the frame
Iâ€™d let it take control if I only knew youâ€™d say
"Iâ€™ll be the light in the corner that makes you feel okay
Iâ€™m drawn in closer when you call me by my nameâ€•

Oh please call me by name
Call me by name and I wonâ€™t run away
