It Doesn't Get Any Better

Lindsay Pagano

An angel must've looked down on me
And said this girl has had enough
'Cuz I was hitting every wall in my path
Even the simple things seemed so tough
But like a storm passing over my head
All my troubles seemed to drift along
The moment that you came into my life
I've been singing the same sweet song
It doesn't get any better than it is right now
Yeah, you taught me what true love is, baby and how
Baby and how
There's people livin' in this world with problems
Some bigger than a heart should bear
I look back and feel so foolish
All I've been missing is your smile there

And I promise you that I'll remember
Next time baby that I'm feelin' blue
There's a light that will shine forever
In the way that I feel for you
It doesn't get any better than it is right now
Yeah, you taught me what true love is, baby and how
Baby and how
Ooh, yeah can we take it higher and higher?
I don't think we could get much higher, baby
Ooh, yeah
No it doesn't get any better than it is right now
Yeah, you taught me what true love is, baby and how
It doesn't get any better than it is right now
Yeah, you taught me what true love is, baby and how

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/