Red Sun Burns

Levellers

She took the world up
She was higher than the sun
She didn't have a need
She didn't really want for anyone
She didn't ask for any of thisShe painted in the dark
Truth turned into light
Men came in the night
And they set her world alight
She didn't ask for any of thisBut the red sun burns
Brighter in the night
Red sun burns
To make you feel alrightBut everywhere you go
There's still not enough
For everyoneThey left her in the ash
Tears lay in her eyes
She swore no one would take
More than they could create
She didn't ask for any of thisShe took the world on
She was higher than the sun
She didn't have a need
She didn't really want for anyone
And she didn't ask for any of thisBut the red sun burns
Brighter in the night
Red sun burns
To make you feel alrightBut everywhere you go
Here's still not enough
For everyone
