Speak Easy

Chasing Victory

I don't really understand
Why I'm feeling so disappointed with the images inside my head
They enter so undetected
But I'd never hurt a single soulMy pulse is beating even faster when your words speak so bold
I am learning not to speak, yet to listen
I am learning that if I choose to speak at all, speak easyI'm coming to the conclusion
That healing works best through silent bruising
So just be patient for all you're losing
Love is patient, love is kind
