Fragile (feat. Brad Bell)

Craig Owens

Trace these black lines falling down my face Just pray to God that this will not happen again Memories flood the floor that made this place So please don't tell me that this may be the end

> Wait for me til words spill out And you will see that I am sorry

My fragile soul has lost control again

And I cannot leave until you say you'll stay with me all my life

Please notice that I can't stay away from you

Now I'm left staring at our photograph
The one where I got lost in your brown eyes
I can't accept that you are just my past
And now my future will also be my demise

Come back to me, let words spill out And you can see that I'm still sorry

> No, I can't stay away I can't stay away from you

> > ---

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/