

Call It Love

Crystal Bernard

You caught my eye without trying
You stole my heart away
From clear across the room Somehow it was plain, you felt the same
Looking back now we can't say
Exactly how we knew All a wise man needs
Is one glimpse of destiny There's an ancient fire deep in every heart
And that no one but the perfect match can start
Like a bolt of lightning flashing in the dark
Oh, when fate lights forever up
Call it magic, call it love Until that night love at first sight was Just a childish fantasy like wishing on the star
And if you ask me now, don't ask me how
All I can say is I believe, the proof is in my heart Nature's strongest force
Will always take it's course There's an ancient fire deep in every heart
And that no one but the perfect match can start
Like a bolt of lightning flashing in the dark
Oh, when fate lights forever up
Call it magic, call it love Like a bolt of lightning flashing in the dark
Oh, when fate lights forever up
Call it magic, call it love
