Botchla

Poison the Well

But I adore her, but I adore her
This will never happenBut I adore her this will never happen
Over my dead body of course I think about it
Burn my path if it does, burn my path if it doesShape my body as I feel torn Shape my body as I feel torn brokenAnd if it happens I'll burn and crawl deeper in my hole
Darkness always says hello, darkness always says hello
And your burning body will light my way
Burning body light my way, burning body light my way
