

Believe Me Natalie

The Killers

Believe me, Natalie, listen, Natalie
This is your last chance to find
A go go dance to disco now Please believe me, Natalie, listen, Natalie
This is your last chance to find
A go go dance to disco now Forget what they said in Soho
Leave the 'Oh no's' out
And believe me, Natalie, listen Natalie
This is your last chance There is an old cliché
Under your Monet, baby
Remember the arch of roses
Right above your couch Forget what they said in Soho
Leave the 'Oh no's' out
Yes, there is an old cliché
Under your Monet, baby You left the station now to the floor
With speculation, what was it for?
In that old hallway, Moses, why don't you say?
You've been away for a long time Believe me, Natalie
This is your last chance to find a go go
Forget what they said in Soho and walk away In my dreams, for us, can't get you through
Just one more day, it's alright by me God, help me somehow
There's no time for survival left
The time is now
'Cause this might be your last chance to disco
