Lift It Up

Sierra

Here I am again, I've been here before
I thought I could handle anything but I don't anymore
Sorting through my scars to leave them at your throne
Every time I am amazed that I am not aloneAnd finally I understand what my heart has known
Lift it up to the arms of Jesus, Son of the Father, Author of love
To taste the victory, I must surrender
In Your name, I lift it upCompassion floods my soul, mercy soothes my mind
A touch unlike I've ever felt compels my heart to fly
And only by letting go can I get close to You
And I will lift it up

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/