

Being Is Bewildering

Moloko

Human being, being human
Hands free, nothing touches me
Transmit, remote, unseen, unknown
She's glad to be so very happy
We have placed your call into a queuing system Listen to the pretty music play
Let it numb your fragile system She had a friend to call her own
But now she spends her time alone
What of the cost of growing up?
Put me on hold to shut me up Just being is bewildering
Disconnect me from what is mine
Call waiting, waiting on the other line At your leisure, dear
Come get your pleasure here
I'm so glad to be so very happy And if you need something, anybody, anything
Just being is bewildering
Call me, dial L-O-V-E
Just being is bewildering
I'll do as I please, I won't get down on bended knees Kiss and make up, don't you hang up
Stay and play out the whole scene
Try to stay calm, how long do you hold on?
Do you dare to dream? Just being is bewildering
Just being is bewildering
Just being is bewildering
Just being is bewildering
