

A Woman Never Changes

Van Hunt

Oh, a woman never changes
Her desire only ranges
Between this and that
Yeah, she goes through phases
She might do some rearranging
Mixing and matching
She want it all, not just a little
She want all of the top, all of the bottom
All in the middle of my love
She want it all when she looking in the mirror
She want all of her shadow, all of her own
Reflection in the storefront window
Yeah, she'll ground you when she wake up
Sitting at the traffic light putting on her makeup
To hide the frown on her face
She'll make any place her parking space
Keys in the ignition, leave the engine running
She's coming out with grace
She want it all, not just a little
She want all of the top, all of the bottom
All in the middle of my love
She want it all and she playing for keeps
So all the other girls can know she's my queen
Know she's my freak
Hey, I'll hold her when she's anxious
Pull her close, what's the matter, baby?
Let me read your mind
'Cause it's never what she's saying
It's what she's craving
Deep inside
She want it all, not just a little
She want all of the top, all of the bottom
All in the middle of my love
She want it all
She don't want to have to ask
I know she's a lady, I won't make her say it
I'll just let her have it
All of the top, all of the bottom
All of the middle of my love
