Steal The Sun

Allison Moorer

If the moon could conceal
How it feels when it shines
And the stars could disguise
The beauty the skies revealThen the fire
I try to hide in my heart
Would remain out of sight
Here with you in the darkLet's steal the sun
Before tomorrow comes
Daybreak might take
This all awayLet's be thieves
And rob the east of morning's light
Let's steal the sun
Before it steals tonightOh, how I've missed
Being kissed tenderly
Lips so soft and sweet
Touching my cheek like thisWhat else can I do
But choose to give in
The only way I can lose
Is if this feeling endsLet's steal the sun
Before tomorrow comes
Daybreak might take
This all awayLet's be thieves
And rob the east of morning's light
Let's steal the sun
Before it steals tonightLet's steal the sun
Before it steals tonight
