

Steal The Sun

Allison Moorer

If the moon could conceal
How it feels when it shines
And the stars could disguise
The beauty the skies reveal Then the fire
I try to hide in my heart
Would remain out of sight
Here with you in the dark Let's steal the sun
Before tomorrow comes
Daybreak might take
This all away Let's be thieves
And rob the east of morning's light
Let's steal the sun
Before it steals tonight Oh, how I've missed
Being kissed tenderly
Lips so soft and sweet
Touching my cheek like this What else can I do
But choose to give in
The only way I can lose
Is if this feeling ends Let's steal the sun
Before tomorrow comes
Daybreak might take
This all away Let's be thieves
And rob the east of morning's light
Let's steal the sun
Before it steals tonight Let's steal the sun
Before it steals tonight
