Stained

Imperanon

Blinded by a betrayal scene
No one there to keep my trust
All these serpents in my head
Make me see what I mustScarred heart and wounded mind
My own blood now stains my hands
Fueled with rage to stand and fight
I will be the last who standsHaunted by a murder scene
My weakness was my only hope
Broken alliance, broken trust
From now on I live for myselfBattered heart and hollow mind
My revenge became my world
I regret not things I've done
Alone I stand, still I hurtI have no love for life anymore
I no longer believe in the world
Put your life in the hands of another
And you sure will lose it allI will not break down and crumble
Now that I've found my strength
Show me the error of my ways
And I will laugh at your faceI will not give in and stumble
Now that I see right through you
Try to make me change my way
And I'll show you the reasons why
