Tinder

Hipsway

Outside the motel
On the balcony, hands on railing
Asking, asking me where's the fire
Feel the wind in my face
Some things never leave youOh, I've been waiting for so long
I've been walking on hot stone
Oh, I've been moving on slow train
I've been walking on stone
I've been thinking about setting the world on fireSeven in the morning, tinder all my money
On the great western road
Feel the wind in my face, take a look in my eyes
Some things never leave you
Some things never leave you
I've been waiting for so long
I've been walking on hot stone
Oh, I've been moving on slow train
I've been walking on stone
I've been thinking about setting the world on fireI've been thinking about setting the world on fire
I've been thinking about setting the world on fire
I've been thinking about setting the world on fire
I've been thinking about setting the world on fireSome things never leave you
Some things never leave you
Some things never leave you
Some things never leave you
I've been waiting
For so long
I've been walking on hot stone
Oh, I've been moving on slow train
I've been walking on stoneI've been thinking about setting the world on fire
I've been thinking about setting the world on fire
I've been thinking about setting the world on fire
