

All My Senses

Mando Diao

Pull the trigger, break down in a love affair
When I said, "I didnt care" you started searching for tomorrow
Pull the trigger, my girl youre running all alone
I said, "I was back home, but Im far away" And there aint no point in the words I write
There aint no way to know me
But it sure felt right when I saw your eyes
But now they feel like, oh yeah, they feel like Mondays And all my senses seem to shine through the day
Seem to shine through the day, honey thats okay
Yes all my senses seem to shine in the night
Seem to shine in the night, honey thats alright In your heart girl, I see a jealous butterfly
You wanted me high, love, but Im sober still
Yeah, in your heart girl theres nothing left but misery
Come dance while Im getting free Im gonna lie again, yeah yeah 'Cause there aint no point in the words I write
There aint no way to get me
But I sure was high when I saw your smile
But now your always, oh yes, youre always gone girl And all my senses seem to shine through the day
Seem to shine through the day, honey thats okay
Yes all my senses seem to shine in the night
Seem to shine in the night, honey thats alright, oh yeah yeah Yeah, all my senses seem to shine in the night
Seem to shine in the night, honey thats alright
And all my senses seem to be in this song
Thinking all day long, honey what went wrong
Tell me what went wrong, tell me what went wrong
