

Stupid Kid

Caedmon's Call

I think this place is swell
There's much familiar here
I get my laundry done
I haven't gotten phone calls in years
When I'm feelin' tired
I can turn off all the lights
With no one knockin' on the door
Pretend I'm not alive but
Daddy, it's Saturday
And I don't wanna go outside
And mow the grass today
Say, would you love me just as much
If I was just your stupid kid?
I said, would you love me just as much
If I was just your stupid kid?
Well they tell me that I'm bright
Sometimes I think they're right
But I guess I will ever know
'Cuz I won't go outside
Some days it's just so hot
And others it's so cold
Too much exposure to the sun
Will just make me look old
But daddy it's Saturday
And I don't wanna go outside
And mow the grass today
Said, would you love me just as much
If I was just your stupid kid
Say, would you love me just as much
If I was just your stupid kid
Well isn't it Saturday
Sure feels like Saturday
So, wake me Saturday
Daddy, it's Saturday
Well my watch is off to things I never seen
With these walls higher than the cost
Of opportunity
'Cuz I'm too big for my bed
And I've outgrown my shoes
But my fear of leaving
Is the one thing just can't lose
But daddy it's sat
I don't wanna go outside
And mow the grass today
Say, would you love me just as much
If I went out and got a job
If I never left your house
[Unverified]
If I never matter much more
I'm just your stupid kid
Would I love me just as much

If I was just your stupid kid

Songwriters

Derek Walsh WebbPublished by

NIPHON, INC. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>