

Long After I'm Gone

Big Kenny

Had a rusty hot rod on a country road
And a John Deer tractor with a radio
Just a long haired farm boy with jukebox dreams
Hit the town on weekends just to blow off some steam
You know what I mean
Yeah, the years roll by, the world don't stop
And all these memories are all I've got
But the love I leave in my wildest dreams will live on
Long after I'm gone, long after I'm gone
Well, I hug my babies and I kiss my wife
Don't take for granted a single breath of this life
And I count my blessings each and every day
Because tomorrow you know it just might be too late

I know what I say
That the years roll by the world don't stop
And all these memories are all I've got
But the love I leave in my wildest dreams will live on
Long after I'm gone, long after I'm gone
Oh yeah, the years roll by the world don't stop
All these memories are all I've got
But the love I leave in my wildest dreams will live on
They will live on, they will live on
Long after I'm gone, long after I'm gone
Long after I'm gone, oh
