Your Words

Ravenscode

Mobilize, it's to realize energize, it's time we justify this time around, there's no slacking no wasted moments, or useless spaces the nameless faces who try to put us down they're still here, but they don't run this town
your words
launched a battle cry
we're here to prove you wrong
this is our town
this is our song mobilize, it's time to realize energize, I think it's time to justify we never guessed we'd be put down for moving out from under covered ground we forged a path all our own and we won't forgive your hostility
launched a battle cry
this is our town
this is our song
launched a battle cry
well where were you in '82? we weren't aware of the battle lines so they were the saints and we were the sinners? that's fine
now it's our time
we're justified
